OFFICIAL PAPER OF COUNTY.

The reduction of the public debt for the first five months of this year, ending May 31, was $42,259,764.48.

It is estimated that when all the school lands in the State are sold the permanent school fund will amount to about $12,000,000.

The people of Atchison are much interested in the proposed extension by Jay Gould of the Missouri Pacific road from that city to Omaha.

Some of the English papers talk as though their whole nation had a grudge against Mr. Lorrillard because his American colt won the recent Derby race.

It is announced that Maj. John L. Bittinger, of Concordia, Kansas, will in a short time take the place of Col. Van Horn as one of the editors of the Kansas City Journal.

The Democratic candidate for the seat in the U. S. Senate made vacant by the resignation of Conkling, John C. Jacobs, is a journalist by profession and it is said he never attended school after he was twelve years of age.

The Bismarck Grove Sunday School Assembly and Church Encampment, commencing July 5th and continuing ten days, will doubtless be an interesting series of meetings. An excellent programme has been arranged for the occasion.

King, the aeronaut, proposes to make a trip from the Mississippi river to the Atlantic coast for the purpose of demonstrating the possibility of keeping a balloon inflated long enough to cross the Atlantic, a project which he is now advocating.

Rev. Henry M. Green has been appointed Superintendent of the School for Feeble Minded Children by the Board of Trustees of the State Charitable Institutions. This school will be opened at Lawrence on the first of next September.

Since the project of a world's fair in New York City has been abandoned, people of Boston are discussing the propriety of holding the fair in that city. Agents visiting Chicago in behalf of the enterprise report that they receive great encouragement.

The test cases under the prohibition law were argued before the Supreme Court this week and submitted to that tribunal for final decision. Their decision; and in case they hold the law constitutional, their interpretation of it, is awaited with much interest.

The Ecclesiastical Council of the Methodist Church, to which Elder Mitchell appealed from the order made by the South Kansas Conference, last fall, suspending him from the ministry, has reversed the decision of said Conference and acquitted the Elder.

At a meeting of the Society of the Army of the Potomac, last week, at Hartford, Conn., Gen. Sherman made a speech in which he corrected and severely criticised many of the statements made by Jeff Davis in his book, "Rise and Fall of the Southern Confederacy."

Alexander Sinclair, of the Glasgow Herald, who has been making an extensive tour through this country, predicts a very large immigration of farmers from Scotland to America. He says the farmers there have become alarmed at the competition of American beef and grain in the English markets.

The great liberal statesman of France M. Gambetta, is advocating the eligibility of women as a teacher in that country. He believes that in the education of the future the women of France will bear an honorable share, and he urges that such legislation be had as will enable them to take part in this great work.

The Derby is the great race of the world, and Mr. Lorrillard's American colt, Iroquois, recently astonished every body in general, and the English in particular, by winning this race. And since that time Mr. Keene has won with his American colt, Fox-hall, the Grand Prix of Paris, the great race of France. Lovers of Fast horses in America justly feel proud over these grand victories on the race course.

Speaking of the two principals in the Legislative bribery case, the New York Times says: "The Legislative center of Senator Sessions has not been such as to render it absolutely incredible that he should attempt to bribe a fellow-member, though it might discredit the allegation of prepayment; nor has that of Mr. Bradley been so far removed above suspicion as to render the theory ridiculous that he has been bribed by one side to say that he had been bribed by the other."

There is now in the vaults of the United States Treasury about $100,000,000 in silver, and this amount is increasing at the rate of $2,000,000 per month. It is to be hoped that when Congress meets again this fall of trying to make a dollar out of 80 or 90 cents worth of silver will cease. It is said that the Congressmen who were so eloquent in favor of the "dollar of our dads" have always refused to receive their pay in silver dollars which they knew were not worth their face. It is said that Secretary Windom looks with suspicion upon this rapidly accumulating pile of silver, and is at a loss to know what action to take in reference to it.

It has been estimated that the overflow of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers in May destroyed $20,000,000 worth of property, besides the large number of lives that were lost. And yet, notwithstanding the amount of snow and ice in the mountains is so great that there may be a re-occurrence of the flood in June, nothing has been done to guard against another overflow.

The Supreme Court of the United States, in a case that was taken up from the State of Delaware, has decided that the exclusion of colored men from the jury was unconstitutional. The case was one in which a colored man was on trial and colored men were not allowed on the jury because under the laws of that State none but white men were qualified jurors. The Supreme Court holds that the word white was eliminated from the State Constitution of Delaware by the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments of the Constitution of the United States. It takes the people of some States a long time to learn that the Constitution of the United States is superior to their State Constitutions.

The Republicans of Ohio, at their late State convention, refused to make the temperance question a political issue and advised that the matter be submitted to the people, in a constitutional amendment, as was done in Kansas. In this we think they acted wisely, as the temperance question is not properly a political issue. This, however, was not satisfactory to many Republicans, and it is probable that a temperance ticket will be put in the field. If this accomplishes anything, it will be to make it possible for the Democrats to elect their State ticket. How Republicans expect to advance the cause of temperance by electing Democrats to office, we are unable to see.

In a number of the cities in the State saloons have again been opened, and beer and intoxicating drinks are being more or less publicly sold in defiance of law, and many of those who are opposed to prohibition are greatly elated while a portion of the temperance people are correspondingly depressed, especially as in a majority of cases so far those who have been arrested for the violation of the law have been acquitted. And yet if the Supreme Court should hold that the law is constitutional we see no reason why every saloon in the State may not be closed, including those in the larger cities. There is such a thing as too much defiance to law, and the manner in which it is being violated in several cities in the State will bring a reaction and the temperance people, if they act with wisdom, will have the great majority of the law abiding citizens on their side to help and sustain them in enforcing the law. The statement that is being made by some that the law can not be enforced because it will be impossible to get a jury of twelve men but that there will be at least one whisky man among the number who will refuse to agree to a verdict of guilty, no matter how clearly the violation of law has been proven, is an unjust charge against the honor and integrity of our people. When public attention is called to this matter there will be found but few men who will perjure themselves that a man who has willfully violated the law may go free.

In the New York Legislature on the 9th inst. there was repeated in a tame manner the celebrated scene in the Kansas Legislature of 1873, when Senator York rose in his seat as a vote was about to be taken for U. S. Senator and announced that he had been paid $7,000 by Senator Pomeroy to vote for his re-election. This resulted in the defeat of Pomeroy and the election of Ingalls as U. S. Senator. As the opposition to Conkling and Platt began to concentrate on Mr. Depew to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Platt, Mr. Bradley rose in the Assembly and stated that he had been paid $2,000 to vote for Mr. Depew. Instead of creating the consternation in the ranks of the Depew men that York's announcement did among the supporters of Pomeroy, they denied Mr. Depew's having anything to do with the transaction, and demanded an immediate and thorough investigation. An investigating committee was appointed, whereupon a vote was taken for U. S. Senator, and instead of losing, Depew gained a few votes. The investigating committee is now at work, and seems probable that the Conkling and Platt men will prove to the satisfaction of their friends that this was a genuine attempt on the part of Depew's supporters to secure votes by bribery, while the administration will prove to the satisfaction of themselves and their friends that it was a conspiracy on the part of their opponents to cause a stampede in the ranks of the Administration men and thus secure the re-election of Conkling and Platt. In the meantime a vote is taken daily without electing any one, but with Depew still in the lead.

Storms.

On Saturday evening a small cyclone visited Kansas City and destroyed considerable property about the Union Depot, but no lives were lost.

There was also on the 9th inst. quite a severe storm in Lyon county, and considerable damage was done to property in and about Emporia, but no lives were reported lost.

A cyclone passed over a portion of Mitchell and Ottawa counties, along the Solomon valley on the afternoon of the 9th inst., destroying a large amount of property and several lives. The storm cloud assumed the shape of a letter S, and could be seen for miles. The track of the storm was three or four miles in width, and it frequently deviated from a straight course, going sometimes south and sometimes east.

On Sunday afternoon terrible storms raged in different parts of Kansas, and North-west Missouri, and in different localities in other States as far North as Minnesota, marking their courses with the wrecks of houses, barns, trees, fences and the mangled bodies of the dead and dying men, women and children. In Osage, Sedgewick and Sumner counties the storm was especially severe. As yet the exact number of persons killed and wounded in these various storms cannot be ascertained, nor can anything like a correct estimate be made of the amount of property destroyed.

Society Items.

Some young men of Iola have a queer way of going a riding and allowing their lady to get out and hitch the team.

Notwithstanding the threatening storm, Thursday evening, the few that were at the social had a very pleasant time.

Miss Rose Young is visiting relatives and friends in town.

Don't all speak at once, but let us know when that picnic is coming off. The new railroad has improved the appearance of the streets very much by the addition of street ornaments in the way of loafers.

Look out for a wedding-cards will be at your door soon.

Misses Minnie Bush and Adda McGee have returned from a business trip through southern Kansas, for the purpose we understand of attending the Normal.

Liberty Jottings.

June 11.—Corn that has been plowed is doing well.

Wheat will not be a very good crop here this season.

J. C. Kelso has moved his saw mill from Humboldt to this place near the river, and will soon be ready for logs.

Quite a number of horses have been cut very badly on barbed wire, in this vicinity, this spring.

Superintendent Root visited the Liberty school last Wednesday.

Miss Olive Cornell started for Minnesota last Monday, where she intends to visit friends for some time.

Miss Sophia Parsell, who has been visiting here for some time, left for her home in Illinois, last Thursday.

A. E. Chadwick has returned from Topeka where he has been attending school.

Perhaps "V." is interested in this part of the country, that he wants us to take up our pen and write. SCRIBE.

Deer Creek.

Our township is on the boom.

Hay harvest is almost here and then won't we sweat?

There will be a large quantity of hay put up out here this season for market.

We have a good prospect for corn. Oats and wheat are badly damaged by chinch bugs. They have also made an attack on the corn, but not deadly.

A lively party left this part last week for the Neosho with expectations above zero, but the folly to freezing point before their return, as they caught no fish and one of the party was badly poisoned from which she has not fully recovered.

The happiest man in our midst is Abner Still. He has a new boarder at his house. The best of it is he takes no spoon victuals. We rejoice with him for he is a good neighbor and has been having bad luck prior to his present enjoyment. One of his horses died from an unknown cause and he filled its place by borrowing one of his brother-in-law. He had no sooner hitched it to the harrow than it reared high falling back upon the harrow and causing death in a few hours.

We are thankful to Mr. Root for setting us off a new school district and will petition for bonds on the 15th inst. The meeting is to be held at Mr. Vandergrift's. Some of the ladies are becoming quite enthusiastic over it.

Mrs. Vandergrift will visit friends in Missouri soon. She is in a bad state of health and we hope the trip will do her good.

Geneva Jottings.

June 14.—Harvest well under headway.

Warm days and sultry nights.

Rain and hail Thursday afternoon, but no particular injury. About nine o'clock p. m. the same day, a small whirl-wind tore by, a little north and east of town, and we heard of damage as follows: Kirt Phillips, on Spring creek, rail fence badly scattered and 14 of his best apple trees ruined. C. H. Rhodes and Wm. Hyde, considerable fence blown down. Keyport Campbell, house moved off the foundation. Rev. Mr. Campbell, unroofed a building erected years ago by Tom. Stigen-walt for a shop. Lon Howland, three chimneys blown down and also some apple trees. D. E. Curtis, some trees badly broken, fence scattered, and corn laid flat. Father Miller, on east township line, threw a new frame stable over and some other breakages. On and close to our town site the blow was felt, but no damage done worthy of notice.

Robt. White and Will. Lawson lately took from the river a 65 pound, four foot catfish.

At their late meeting, the Allen Co. Sunday School Association elected H. E. Van Deman, one of our teachers, secretary. This Sunday school will give a concert July 10th, at early dark. Each class has special duty and Rev. S. M. Irwin will make some appropriate remarks.

For some reason the change in regard to mail carrier on this route has fallen through and Mr. Jones is driving again.

Lewis Dickerson, our house mover, whose horses all wear horns, had a good three year-old steer choked to death by the yoke (while yoked) last Friday night.

Upon public profession of their faith, Sabbath, Rev. S. M. Irwin received to the Presbyterian church here, Mrs. B. S. Swan and Miss Carrie Leavitt, and by letter Mrs. Leavitt, widow of the late C. K. Mrs. Swan had two children baptized.

Gings is far more forward now than at this time last year. We understand that some will go from here this week to commence making hay for the Colony market.

East Fair Lawn Items.

The wind was on a big old high Saturday night. Blew some of the rail-roads tents inside out.

Mrs. Spencer was severely hurt last week by her horse falling with her.

An effort will be made to move the Golden Valley school house, at the next annual meeting.

Mr. Clothier is work on the railroad bridges. He says they are doing the work lively.

Fair Lawn was struck by lightning rod peddlers last Tuesday. They insure your building against lightning for ten years.

Acrolites are rare, but Fair Lawn has weekly visits from an Orelite. One of Fair Lawn's fairest daughters seems to be the cause.

The fish were all out Wednesday; so says McGlashan and Wycoff.

Your correspondents talk of corn, oats and grass booming, but we have a different boom. The building boom has struck this vicinity.
